The Park

Nestled in Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains, at an elevation of 3000 feet, Virginia Highland Haven is a unique park exclusively for Airstreamers. Close to Blacksburg, Christiansburg, and Roanoke the park lies in Southwest Virginia's beautiful Floyd County between I-81 and the famed Blue Ridge Parkway and spreads across seventy-five acres of beautiful hilly terrain with open meadows, hiking trails, fruit trees and a waterfall. These features combined with the parks elevation contribute to an unbelievable hideaway from spring through fall with warm days, cool nights, and ideal sleeping conditions. Marvelous views and spectacular sunsets can be enjoyed without mosquitoes and other pesky insects. Hummingbirds come to visit daily while deer and wild turkeys are easily sighted throughout most of the season.

Highland Haven has forty-six hard-surfaced sites with full hookups and concrete patios. The comfortable club house is the center of activity and houses several high speed DSL hookups, a recently remodeled kitchen, and modern laundry facilities. Park members, as volunteer hosts, greet guests, arrange for a relaxed and comfortable visit as well as plan social and clubhouse activities.

The Area

No other Airstream park along the eastern corridor of the USA offers as much, from simple serene relaxation to the bright lights and eclectic offerings of Roanoke City. Drive the Blue Ridge Parkway with its spectacular vistas and discover the delights of Mabry Mill, and Chateau Morrisette, or hike the trails of The Peaks of Otter. Bluegrass and country music thrive throughout Floyd County. The Friday Night Jamborees at the Floyd Country Store are a unique slice of Americana and a legend not to be missed. Schoolhouse Fabrics, one of the most extensive fabric stores in the US, can be found in Floyd, a scant eighteen miles away, and be prepared to stop and explore the numerous antique shops, general stores, and farmers markets found in the area.
